DETAILED ACTION

The following action is in response to communications filed for application 10/828,265 on February 6, 2006.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 3-7, and 18-22 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on February 6, 2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsuda '353 in view of Spurlin '320. Matsuda teaches a hydraulic control system for an automatic transmission with a wet clutch 24 serving as a start element and points to be lubricated, comprising: a lubrication passage (Fig. 5) which feeds a lubricating oil to the wet clutch and the points of the transmission, a switching valve 320 which switches fluid communication to the wet clutch and the points of the transmission, a distribution controller 214sl which controls the switching valve; a pressure regulator valve 312 arranged on the lubrication passage upstream of the cooler, the pressure regulator valve regulating a pressure of the lubricating oil; a pressure controller 316sl which controls the pressure regulator valve; and an electronic control unit 218 which controls the distribution controller and the pressure controller. Matsuda lacks the teaching of an oil cooler arranged on the lubrication passage. Spurlin teaches a wet clutch 10 and hydraulic controls for said clutch comprising: a switching valve 142, a lubrication passage (Fig. 2a); a cooler 164 arranged on the lubrication passage the cooler cooling down the lubricating oil, and a regulator valve 143 located upstream of the cooler. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Matsuda to employ an oil cooler on the lubrication passage in order to reduce the heat of the clutch and thereby reducing wear.

Art Unit: 3681

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-2, 8-16, and 23-26 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Sganao, Kazuhiko, and Iwanaga have been cited to show similar pressure controls based on temperature.

Long, Kunii and Hopper have been cited to show similar switching valves.

Smith has been cited to show an oil cooler upstream of the regulating valve.

Morishita, Tsubata and Kanda have been cited to show similar clutch and hydraulic control arrangements.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. The central facsimile number is (571) 273-8300. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (571) 273-8300) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Roger L. Pang whose telephone number is 571-272-7096. The examiner can normally be reached on 5:30am to 4:00pm.
